Position: School Nutritionist

Application Deadline: February 10, 2025

Start Date: Immediate.

Schedule: Monday to Friday, from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Occasional work on Saturdays or at alternative times to cover events.

Main responsibilities: Develop menus considering nutritional, cultural, and institutional aspects, as well as costs and operational feasibility. Work closely with students during meal times, monitoring snacks and meals, promoting healthy choices, and ensuring nutritional adequacy. Monitor students' adherence to the school's meal program, identifying and flagging situations of improper use of the service, as well as guiding families toward regularization. Plan and implement ongoing food and nutrition education initiatives with students. Develop educational and communication materials aimed at students and families. Assist students and families with matters related to food, nutrition, dietary restrictions, and general guidance. Work in collaboration with the kitchen manager, providing technical support to the team regarding good food handling practices and nutritional adjustments, without direct team management. Work in an integrated manner with the school's pedagogical and administrative areas, contributing to the proper functioning of the meal program.

Requirements: Undergraduate degree in Nutrition with active CRN. Fluency in Portuguese and English. Experience with children and adolescents (preferably in a school environment) is desirable. Experience with an industrial kitchen is desirable.

The School

School of the Nations is an international, private, not-for-profit, coeducational, dual-language school. We are accredited internationally by New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC), and nationally by the Secretary of Education of the Federal District. We provide a rigorous bilingual academic curriculum complemented by our moral education program, the arts, and sports. Moral education fosters students' understanding of the dynamic role they play in constructing a peaceful, just, and sustainable society. Students may take preparatory and university-level classes and earn the Brazilian, American, and AP Capstone® diplomas.

Our History

School of the Nations was established as a place where children from different countries of diverse backgrounds could build a learning community where they could learn to live peacefully together as “world citizens” in a safe, healthy, happy environment while excelling academically through a challenging, college-preparatory curriculum enriched by values and ethics. Our Founders' vision became reality on September 1, 1980.

The school opened with only 17 students and three rented classrooms in the recently built Independent British Institute (IBI). By 1981, the School had grown to 37 students, and classrooms occupied an entire wing of the Presbyterian Institute in Lago Sul, Brasília. Over the next three years, School of the Nations would grow to serve nearly 100 students. In August 1987, the School, with its 140 students, moved to its current location, on a beautiful campus in a peaceful neighborhood in Brasília. In 2002, we inaugurated our second campus, just across from the first, to host our Early Childhood Education program for students from 2 to 6. Our community and school continue to grow. Today, School of the Nations educates over 700 students.

Mission

Educate students to be world citizens based on standards of academic and ethical excellence to develop their capacities to know, love, and serve humankind.

Vision

School of the Nations strives to be exemplary among Brazilian and international schools for its commitment to world citizenship and for helping young people develop outstanding academic, ethical and spiritual qualities and a clear understanding of their roles in building a better world.

Accreditation

School of the Nations is accredited internationally by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) and nationally by the Secretary of Education of the Federal District.
